A power function is a function of the form $y = x^n$, where x is the variable and n is a constant. If n is a positive integer, then x^n equals the product of n x 's, as in the formula $x^3 = x \cdot x \cdot x$. If n is a positive fraction, p/q , then $x^n = x^{p/q}$ is the q th root of the p th power of x , which also equals the p th power of the q th root of x . In the case of $n = 5$

Section 0.3 Power and exponential functions

In probability theory, a probability density function (PDF), or density of a continuous random variable, is a function, whose value at any given sample (or point) in the sample space (the set of possible values taken by the random variable) can be interpreted as providing a relative likelihood that the value of the random variable would equal ...

a power series. More precisely, given a function $f(x)$, we will try to find a power series $\sum_{n=0}^{\infty} c_n (x-a)^n$ such that $f(x) = \sum_{n=0}^{\infty} c_n (x-a)^n$. Part of the work will involve finding the values of x for which this is valid. Part of the reason for doing this is that a power series looks like a polynomial (except that it has infinitely many terms). Polynomials are among the easiest functions to work with. They

Representation of functions as power series

Chapter 6 Power Series Power series are one of the most useful type of series in analysis. For example, we can use them to define transcendental functions such as the exponential and
